

[illegible]The coat of arms of the Republic of Serbia is depicted within a shield. It features a red vertical stripe running down the center. On this stripe, there is a golden crown at the top and a green dragon in the middle. The dragon is shown in a rampant position, facing left, with its wings spread and its tail curled. The shield is flanked by two green olive branches that curve upwards and meet at the bottom. The entire shield is set against a white background.
