exciting year with ASA!

A Quick Introduction

Welcome to Carnegie Mellon Asian Student Association! We are the largest student organization on campus and we want YOU to experience what we call...ASA LOVIN'. We are excited to meet all of you!

What makes ASA Lovin'?

(a bit long, but....) ☺

The Carnegie Mellon Asian Student Association, also known as ASA, is the largest student organization on campus. Comprised of students who are interested in exploring the Asian culture and participating in different events throughout the school year, this organization is a fun way to get involved and meet new people. We welcome everybody who is interested in being a part of this family so feel free to come out and check out our calendar for this month!

Throughout the year we are looking for PR members who will attend meetings and get involved in fundraisers and events. To join, just come to our PR meetings every Wednesday at 5:30 in the West Wing TV Lounge and sign up to be on our PR list. We will send you updates about our events so you can meet other ASA members at our social activities! Come early so we can pair you up with a mentor who will teach you more about ASA and maybe even take you out to eat!

Second semester we create a booth for the Spring Carnival and it is one of the biggest activities ASA participates in all year long. All the PRs, board members, and even alumni will come out and help build an amazing booth, which will hopefully win first place! Through all the laughter-filled times spent together to build this project, ASA members develop close friendships and realize what it means to have...
